

First Eagle Funds

Certification Statement for Net Asset Value Purchases

Information on the Net Asset Value Purchase Privilege

1. To be eligible to purchase shares of First Eagle Funds (“the Funds”) at net asset value, the criteria as outlined in this form and detailed in the Prospectus must be met.
2. The first purchase must be made by mail and accompanied by this certification statement and the New Account Application.
3. Subsequent investments into the established account can be made by wire transfer (if the broker/dealer of record can enter wire order trades at net asset value) or by mail. Mail orders for subsequent purchases may be sent directly to DST Systems, Inc., transfer agent for the Funds with the remittance portion of your statement or a transmittal letter indicating the fund and account number.
4. No street name accounts can be used for this privilege.
5. Purchases at net asset value may be suspended when a representative is no longer with a firm holding a current Selling Group Agreement with FEF Distributors, LLC (“the Distributor”) for the purpose of selling shares of the Funds.
6. Financial planners/investment advisers must disclose their affiliated FINRA registered dealer firm (if applicable.)
7. The Distributor reserves the right to cancel or suspend this privilege at any time.
8. Please review the current Prospectus for further details regarding this privilege.

Terms and Conditions of Net Asset Value Purchases

Shares of the Funds may be purchased at net asset value (i.e., without a sales charge) provided qualification is made under one of the following conditions (please check one):

- The purchaser is a current registered representative or employee (or immediate family members of such persons) of an authorized dealer maintaining a Selling Group Agreement with the Distributor for the purpose of selling shares of the Funds or to any trust, pension, profit-sharing or other benefit plan for only such persons.
 - The purchaser is a bank, trust company or affiliate, which is authorized to make investment decisions on behalf of a client.
 - The purchaser is a financial planner or investment adviser who is authorized to make investment decisions on behalf of a client.
 - The purchaser is opening an account through a fee-based, asset allocation, discretionary and/or advisory investment program sponsored by a broker dealer having a Selling Group Agreement with the Distributor.
 - The purchaser is a retirement or deferred compensation plan or trust used to fund those plans, including but not limited to those defined in Sections 401(a), 401(k), 403(b) or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code and “rabbi trust.”
 - The purchaser is a current officer, director or employee (or immediate family members of such persons) of the Funds or the Distributor.
 - The purchaser is a current officer, director or employee (or immediate family members of such persons) of certain firms providing services to the Funds (such as the custodian or the transfer agent).
- Any shares purchased under this arrangement are only for the investment purposes of the individual identified in the certification statement. These shares may not be resold, transferred or have the ownership redirected in any other way without the express written consent of the Distributor.
 - The Distributor reserves the right to verify employment, ownership and affiliation of the account owner at any time.
 - Failure to comply with the above stipulations may result in the calculation of a sales charge or cancellation of the order.

Directions

1. Complete and sign the certification below.
2. Mail this certification together with the completed New Account Application and check (made payable to "First Eagle Funds") to the address detailed at the bottom of this form. Purchases will be made at net asset value on the close of business the day the investment is received by the transfer agent as set forth in the current Prospectus. No wire orders can be accepted for initial investments.

Certification

I certify that I am qualified to purchase shares of the Funds at net asset value as set forth in the current Prospectus and that this purchase is being made for investment purposes and that the shares will not be resold except through redemption. I understand that the Distributor has the right to revoke this privilege at anytime. The Distributor reserves the right to verify the legitimacy of the purchase of shares of the Funds at net asset value, and any lack of compliance with the aforesaid representations or procedures may result in the imposition of a sales charge calculated as set forth in the current Prospectus or the cancellation of such order placed.
